Welcome

...foolish mortal...This is The Haunted Mansion.

I am your host or should I say, ghost host. Come in, stay a while and warm yourself by the fire. A soul could catch their death in this weather. But, I fear there is much more to be wary of than a little rain.

I don't mean to frighten you prematurely, but it seems only one other guest will be accompanying you this evening...

and he has not yet arrived. If he does, it will be my sincere pleasure to introduce you to him—a charming young fellow by the name of Zeke, with whom I'm sure you'll become well acquainted, as the night creeps on.

It is my understanding that young Zeke comes to us seeking employment at the estate. While the mansion has not seen life in many years, and perhaps has a few cobwebs, I'm afraid our interview process is still rather...gueling.

Ahh! It seems our guest of honor, has arrived after all. I'll inform the others, and see to it that Zeke finds his way inside. Don't go anywhere—the tour, will begin when I return.

There's no turning back now...

The Haunted Mansion

The Game

Upon entering the MANSION, Zeke finds himself trapped inside with a mysterious fortune-teller, Madame Leota, and other ghostly inhabitants. Only by helping them to rid their MANSION of evil can he help himself to escape.

Early on, Zeke is given a magical lantern and told that to succeed in his quest to rid the MANSION of evil, he must restore light to each of the many rooms and chambers. But the evil forces fighting against him are very clever and powerful. They have twisted the rooms into supernatural puzzles which he must solve before he will be able to restore light to each room. Likewise, these evil forces will seek to frighten Zeke to an early grave and must be battled using the power of the magic lantern.

Fighting his way through hordes of enemies, and solving each puzzle, Zeke will need to navigate the halls and stairways of the MANSION with extreme caution. Upon finding the light source for each room, Zeke must then use the lantern to capture these evil forces and transform their energy into good.

Bravery, wits and reflexes will all be required of Zeke as he makes his way through the twisted MANSION, for within these walls there is much more than shadows and cobwebs to be discovered.

As you play the game, you'll be following Zeke through the MANSION, viewing the action from slightly above and behind Zeke as he moves. Three key areas of the screen will help you to keep track of Zeke and his accomplishments in the MANSION: Zeke's Bravery Meter, The Beacon of Souls and the Deck of Fortune Cards.

Zeke's Bravery Meter – A blue bar shows how much bravery Zeke has at a given time, as well as a picture of Zeke's face, both of which will change whenever Zeke is attacked or frightened by something. When Zeke restores light to a room in the MANSION, he will feel less afraid, and his Bravery Meter will reflect this by increasing in length. However, when Zeke enters a dark and unfamiliar part of the MANSION, his Bravery Meter will shrink, indicating his fearfulness. Additionally, the number of lives Zeke has is located beside his portrait.

The Beacon of Souls – This lantern displays a colored gem for each shot type Zeke has gained, matching the color of the available Beacon attacks Zeke can use. Inside, you can see the number of Shriveled Souls Zeke has collected so far in the MANSION, while beside it is shown the number of Souls for Zeke left to find in the current room.

Deck of Fortune Cards – This displays the number of single Madame Leota Fortune Cards Zeke currently has in his possession. Whenever Zeke picks up a total of ten of these Fortune Cards, he will gain an extra life, which is then displayed by his portrait on his Bravery Meter.

Zeke

A rather shy and dreamy young man, Zeke spent much of his childhood in orphanages, learning early on how to fend for himself. Zeke has high hopes of one day becoming an author, but is currently stumped as to what to write about. In the meantime, Zeke's primary concern is finding a job to support himself—which has brought him to the gates of a rather foreboding rural estate.

Basic Moves

To help Zeke survive the ordeal in the MANSION, you're going to need to know just what he's capable of.

- ➊ To move Zeke, use the left analog stick. Zeke can SNEAK, WALK or RUN depending on how far you move the stick.
- ➋ To fight off Zeke's enemies, press the R1 button to fire shots from Zeke's magic lantern. To target enemies and direct your shots at them, hold down the L1 button to Lock-On.
- ➌ To take a good look at Zeke's surroundings, use the right analog stick to control camera rotation. If you want an even better look at something in the MANSION, press the A button to use the Look Camera.
- ➍ Sometimes Zeke may need to JUMP to get somewhere. To jump, press the X button.
- ➎ Many locations in the MANSION feature objects that pulse which are INTERACTIVE—to get Zeke to activate or search them, press the □ button.

The Residents

As Zeke progresses through the MANSION, he will ENCOUNTER many wondrous and frightening inhabitants. Some will be friendly, others hostile. But in either case, all will be eager for Zeke to join them.

Madame Leota

Once a powerful fortune-teller, Leota became one of the first victims to succumb to the evil that now controls the MANSION, trapping inside the living and the dead alike. Leota will be a source of power and information for Zeke during his stay at the MANSION. To have Madame Leota CONSULT the spirits for help with any puzzle, press any directional button.

Friendly Ghosts

Madame Leota's closest friends in the spirit world will also aid Zeke in his quest through the MANSION. These six ghosts—the departed souls of an opera singer, a knight, an organist, a duelist, a pirate and an old lady—each keep one of the Beacon's six Soul Gems and have been instructed to deliver them only to Zeke.

Atticus Thorn

Twisted and evil, Atticus Thorn is the leader of a secret order whose sole purpose is to wipe out the good forces in the world. It is Thorn who is responsible for imprisoning Madame Leota, the ghosts and now Zeke within this haunted MANSION. His evil MINIONS now roam the MANSION freely, aiding him in his sinister plans and preventing Madame Leota and the others from rising up against him. Little is known to Zeke about Thorn in the beginning of the game, but in time he will learn much about this adversary.

Evil Spirits

Though Zeke may have some friends in the MANSION, he has many more ENEMIES, the most common being Evil Spirits. Evil Spirits are the souls of the lost, the unhappy, the selfish and the angry, bound to serve in the MANSION for all eternity. Evil Spirits vary in strength and speed, with the more powerful varieties lurking in shadows deeper within the MANSION. Able to fly through walls, Evil Spirits almost always attack in NUMBERS, swarming after Zeke in an attempt to chill his very soul.

Spiders

The MANSION has become infested with all sorts of pests and VERMIN in recent months, not the least of which are Spiders. Their webs are everywhere IN THE MANSION, and Zeke will need to stay alert—you never know when one of these eight-legged beasties will drop in for a bite.

The Others

There are also many other souls trapped in the MANSION with Madame Leota and her friends. Though they are somewhat confused and unaware of what is happening around them, they have been known to make a ghostly appearance from time to time.

The Beacon

During his adventure in the MANSION, Zeke will carry with him a magical lantern known as The Beacon of Souls. Given to him by Madame Leota, The Beacon will not only be Zeke's weapon against the evil forces which have invaded the MANSION, but will also allow him to unlock new locations and discover the many secrets hidden within.

Combat

The Beacon's energy is what Zeke will use to defeat and capture his evil adversaries. As Zeke gains new Soul Gems for The Beacon, it will be able to fire more powerful light attacks, ranging from Rapid Shots, which do light damage but can be fired very quickly at enemies, to Power Shots, that can inflict a huge amount of damage in a single attack. Beyond Power Shots, Zeke can also increase The Beacon's energy to fire Ultra Shots that can devastate a whole group of enemies at once. To fire Power and Ultra Shots, hold down the R1 button to charge up the Beacon and release to fire.

Fighting enemies is much easier if you use the Lock-On controls. To target a specific enemy, hold the L1 button. To switch targets between enemies while using Lock-On, simply move the right analog stick to lock onto a different enemy.

Searching

While many enemies are destroyed by The Beacon's light, Evil Spirits simply lose power from the light and move to dark places. Whenever Zeke defeats an Evil Spirit, it will shrivel up and fly away looking for a place to hide. Once Zeke has found the light source, Zeke needs to locate the hidden Shriveled Souls. To search an object, press the □ button.

Soul Gems

The power of The Beacon is contained in six magic gems known as Soul Gems. At various points in the game, Zeke will gain a new Soul Gem from one of Madame Leota's ghostly friends. These will increase The Beacon's power, allowing Zeke to collect more Shriveled Souls at a time and fire more damaging shots at his enemies.

Death Certificates

Scattered around the MANSION are bits and pieces of the Death Certificates for each of the six friendly ghosts. The evil that has crept into the MANSION has confused these ghosts and made them very forgetful. Returning their Death Certificates can often be enough to refresh their memory.

Shriveled Souls

Whenever Zeke encounters a Shriveled Soul, it will do its best to try to get away. Fortunately, another of The Beacon's abilities is the power to capture these little fellows. Tap the O button to send out a beam from The Beacon to snag a Soul, then hold it in to drag it back to The Beacon. As The Beacon becomes more powerful, you can snag more Souls simultaneously—to do this, tap the Soul Collector button multiple times. Collecting Shriveled Souls in The Beacon increases its powers of good, allowing it to break down any evil magic barriers Zeke encounters.

Spirit Barriers

To get through one of these barriers, Zeke needs to collect enough Shriveled Souls in The Beacon to destroy the barrier. Each room contains enough Shriveled Souls to allow Zeke access to additional rooms in the mansion, by giving The Beacon enough power to break down the barrier. To destroy a barrier, approach it and press the B button.

Grandfather Clock

Here and there in the mansion, Zeke will find creepy Grandfather Clocks that he can activate. Using a Grandfather Clock will allow you to save your game progress. Saving your game progress often is a wise decision, because you never know what might be lurking in the darkness ahead.

Curious Items

Scattered throughout the mansion are many strange and wondrous items, which Zeke can acquire to aid him in his quest. Among these are:

Bravery Tonic

Gulping down a bottle of Doc Penczek's GENUINE Olde Fashioned Bravery Tonic will replenish Zeke's bravery whenever he starts looking a little scared.

Fortune Cards

Gathering up Madame Leota's long lost deck of magic Fortune Cards helps gain extra lives for Zeke.

Mumbo Dolls

Each time you collect ONE of Madame Leota's Mumbo Dolls, Zeke gains a permanent bravery boost, which can help Zeke to face tougher enemies.

A Haunting Last Thought...

Haunted by spirits and creeping with crawlers, the MANSION is home to evil in many forms. Zeke will need every ounce of bravery he can muster and all the power of The Beacon to vanquish his enemies. Keep your eyes and ears open, and be ready for anything!

BEWARE: Hints and Tips

- ☞ Objects in the game that Zeke can interact with will pulse. Always keep your eyes open for pulsing objects.
- ☞ Don't forget—use the Lock-On Button to target Zeke's enemies in combat. Lock-On can make aiming and shooting much easier.
- ☞ Some objects in the MANSION are crooked or may seem out of place. These objects pulse very slowly and are linked to secret areas.
- ☞ Pay attention to enemies when you shoot at them. If you notice your shots are bouncing off of them, they may be IMMUNE to that shot.
- ☞ To drag Shriveled Souls into the Beacon more quickly, hold the Soul Collector Button while spinning Zeke to the left or right. This motion can pull the Souls much like using a fishing pole.
